LOVELAND, OH (May 19, 2022) - The following statement was released today by Ben Hicks, through his personal attorney and journalism agent Samuel L. Neiger, Chairman of Sports Editing for The Loveland Roar (R.O.A.R.) located in Loveland, Ohio, in response to questions about his future career plans:

“I’m back.”

- 12 -

Full statement from Mr. Hicks below:

“After an enjoyable year as a Staff Writer I am thrilled for the chance to expand my role to become the Entertainment & Features Editor. This past year, I was presented with an abundance of opportunities to expand my knowledge in the world of news and communications. I look forward to meeting and working with the incoming staff, as well as planning and preparing for next school year with my fellow future editors. This is a great opportunity to expand my leadership qualities in an important role. I am truly excited for the opportunity to continue to produce great newspapers. Go Tygas! #ImBack” - Ben Hicks

This first year of Journalism has presented so many opportunities to meet new people and really expand my role in the Loveland community. This class really took me in with open arms and I’m really excited to join the editor ranks. I’ve really enjoyed this class and look forward to becoming a leader in this classroom next year while meeting new future editors as well.

Senior Staff Members Bid Farewell to Loveland Roar

By Laurel Gibbins
@lfgibbins9212 | Co-Editor-In-Chief

With graduation looming around the corner, I feel an obligation to reflect on the last thirteen years of my life. I have been going to Loveland Schools since kindergarten and along the way I have been fortunate to meet so many wonderful people. High school was a wild ride and I will look back with (mostly) fond memories. Joining journalism three years ago was one of the best things I did in high school and I enjoyed every second of it. It allowed to grow as a writer and as a leader. I would like to take the opportunity to show my appreciation for this special group of people: To my Co-Editors-in-Chiefs, Kate and Grace, - thank you for everything, I could not have done it without you! To Sports Editor, Sam Neiger, - thanks for editing all the sports articles so I didn't have to! To current staff members, - thank you for being a constant source of entertainment and for all your hard work this year! Finally, a very big thank you to Mr. Hutzel - thank you for your never ending support and for being an excellent advisor over these last few years! If i've learned anything the last four years, its that finding a group of people that you enjoy being around everyday is so important. To future editors, Sean, Ben, Chase, and Jack, I have no doubt that all of you will continue to do great things for the newspaper! Good Luck! Bye for now, Laurel Gibbins (co-editor-in-chief)

Graduation is nearing, and I am realizing that my time at Loveland and on this staff is rapidly coming to a conclusion. The past 3 years that I have spent on this staff have been so fun and rewarding. I have gotten to meet new people, discover new talents, and learn that I am passionate about journalism, politics, and news. I want to thank my first editors Sam and Claire for showing me what it means to be a great leader, Laurel and Grace for being the best co-editors that someone could ever have, all of the staff members I have worked with over the years for helping me fall in love with journalism, and most importantly

Mr. Hutzel for continuing to lead this amazing class, fostering a place where we are free to create and express ourselves, and most importantly, putting up with me for the last 4 years. If I had any advice for current and future students of LHS, it would be to put yourself into new environments and experiment with something new and unfamiliar. My best memories were all created because I threw myself into something new I want to wish the absolute best to our future editors, Jack, Ben, Chase, and Sean, you guys are going to make amazing editors next season. You have some pretty big shoes to fill, but I know that you will be able to take on that task and honestly probably do better than the past editors. Until next time, Kate Carpenter (co-editor-in-chief)

@lovelandroar | Staff Writer

It seems like yesterday that I was participating in freshman orientation with the "Link Crew" here at Loveland High School. To be completely honest, being a part of The Roar has given me the opportunity to write freely about things that I'm passionate about, and I'll forever be thankful for the people that "persuaded" me to take this class. It was one of the best decisions I've ever made. I've been a student of Loveland Schools since the seventh grade, and throughout these years, I've learned a lot about myself. I obviously have to give a huge thank you to Mr. Hutzel and the rest of The Roar staff, for they've given me the opportunity to write what I'm passionate about and learn so much about writing, editing, and digital design. I have loved this class more than any of my other classes, because I know that I always have a place to spend my time doing something that I enjoy. I'd also like to thank my parents and all of my friends for helping me get through high school in general. I could not have asked for more supportive people to surround myself with. A piece of advice I'd give to underclassmen would be to not waste too much time thinking about what other people think of you. Everyone is already worried about themselves, and you shouldn't have to worry about that sort of thing. Just breathe, you're going to be okay.

To all of my underclassmen friends, future editors, and upcoming Roar staff writers, I wish you the best of luck for the rest of your time here. Enjoy it, because in a blink of an eye, you'll be where I am, writing this same letter. I cannot wait to see what you accomplish. Molly McCort

@lovelandroar | Sports Editor

Graduation is coming soon, and my time as a senior and my time at Loveland is drawing to a close. In this time of reflection I can't help but look back on my time as a member of The Roar. While I wasn't an editor as long as the almighty trio of Grace, Kate, and Laurel, I have enjoyed being the sports editor for this 2021-2022 school year. This class has been very impactful on my future as I hope to continue a career in broadcast journalism. My love for storytelling was fostered in this class and even my time as a staff writer, before taking an editor's position allowed me to grow as a writer and storyteller. Of course, I would like to thank Mr. Hutzel for teaching the class and running the behind the scenes of The Roar, as well as the co-editors-in-chief, Grace, Kate, and Laurel for leading the class and the paper as a whole, and all the staff members I've had a chance to collaborate with in my two years with The Roar I know it's cliché but if I were to give advice to underclassmen it would be to find something that you love to do that makes you happy, and pursue it as a career. You really can be anything you want to be in the 21st century so chase your dreams with everything you've got, and maybe in 50 years you can look back and realize you never worked a day in your life. To the future editors, Sean, Ben, Chase, and Jack, keep up the great work that has already earned you this title and The Roar will be in good hands. Goodbye, Sam Neiger

With graduation comes the end of my 3rd year on the journalism staff and many memories. I have had so much fun these past few years, especially with my columns (meme review, dad jokes galore). My main focus coming into this class was to make people laugh and I think I accomplished that. I'd like to thank Sam Greenberg and Claire Wallace for being the coolest editors on the planet. I don't know where I would be without the expertise that they passed down to me. Mr. Hutzel also deserves thanks for being a great teacher and creating such a fun and welcoming environment. If I had any advice for the underclassmen it would just be to always ask students for quotes so that the student body feels included in the paper. The paper is more fun when everyone is involved! I am super excited to see what our new editors, Jack, Ben, Chase, and Sean bring to the table. I trust that they know what they are doing and will run a great paper the 2022-2023 school year. I am so glad to have had the opportunity to be a part of this team! Thank you to anyone who ever sent me quotes, Grace Nunn (co-editor-in-chief)
